

Some of the steps
in manufacturing
your new Casita travel trailer...

Chopped fiberglass being sprayed onto a gelcoated body mold.

Finished molded lower body/floor pan ready for floor installation.

Wood flooring installed and sealed with fiberglass prior to carpeting.

Hand lay-up woven roving fiberglass matting adds superior strength to the shell.

Skilled welder/mechanics fabricating the metal chassis from 3" channel.

The finished chassis (frame) is thoroughly washed, primed and painted.

Marine adhesives being applied for wall coverings.

Lightweight liners for cabinets, seat bases & shower add strength & rigidity.

Every trailer is thoroughly water tested for leaks in our custom spray booth.
